Nooshin Behroyan has 17 years of progressively responsible oil, gas, and utilities industry experience that includes a full suite of integrity management, construction management and inspection, engineer, procure, and construction (EPC) for pipeline and electric grid infrastructures. Her expertise includes creating sustainable value-creation strategies and foundation during a crisis to effectively navigate through turbulent times; as well as evaluating and improving processes and building programs from scratch to enhance safety, reduce costs, and expedite projects while leveraging environmentally innovative approaches.

Her company, PAXON, which she founded in 2016 has become a trendsetter and a game changer in the oil and gas industry with focus on Energy innovative approaches that emphasize on technologies for energy-efficient solutions to help pave the way for the future generations for cleaner and safer energy. With 22,790% growth rate, Paxon was named again No.9 fastest growing company in America on the Inc.500 and No.1 Female Lead company on the same list two years in a row.

As a first-generation immigrant and a single mother, Nooshin brings extensive cross-cultural experience that promotes gender diversity and work-force equality by addressing barriers and driving change for positive impact for women engineers and the Veterans. Veterans alone make up 20% of Paxon's total employees.

Nooshin serves as the board president for National Association of Women Business Owners (NAWBO)- San Francisco Bay Area, as well as, chairwoman of the advisory board of IKAR Energy Group, and the advisory boards for American Gas Association (AGA).

Nooshin holds a B.A. in Architecture from UC Berkeley, M.S. in Civil and Environmental Engineering from UC Davis, and is a graduate of UCLA's MDE Program. She is also a professionally trained piano player and has played for the U.C. Berkeley Jazz Ensemble.
